

American Housing Corp

Proposed $50M SAFE financing - modular / row-home builder

As of 2026-05-31 | policy: deep | run 20260531_002459

VERDICT: DILIGENCE GAPS - DO NOT TREAT AS CLEAN

No claim was externally REFUTED, but 16 of 17 dispatched verifications returned UNVERIFIABLE - the relevant public registries were unimplemented, unreachable, or did not return the expected field. Per the hostile-validator standard, UNVERIFIABLE is not a clean bill. Material gaps require management-provided primary documents before this raise can be cleared.

Deal context & coverage

Raise size	$50,000,000 SAFE financing
Documents	5 (pitch deck, financial model, 2 executed SAFEs, SPV memo)
Claims extracted	230 (Mode A direct + Mode B implied-verification)
Externally checked	17 dispatched to an implemented connector (7% of claims have one)
Findings	1 material + 16 unverifiable

Executive summary

The company and its principals are REAL and externally corroborated: open-web discovery independently confirmed American Housing Corp as an Antler Spring-2025 portfolio company ("modular building system... 3x founder") and Fast Company confirms Riley Meik as cofounder/CEO. This is not a phantom issuer.

What could NOT be confirmed is the substance an investor underwrites. Of 17 claims with an implemented external authority, 16 came back UNVERIFIABLE: the state corporate-registry connector is not implemented (OpenCorporates), the Form D checks reached SEC EDGAR but the matched filing was an unrelated pooled-investment SPV rather than the operating company's own Reg-D filing, and the city permit databases returned no rows for the claimed facilities.

The single flagged adverse finding - the Austin project showing zero building permits - is keyed on a non-specific placeholder ("Austin development site") rather than a real street address, because open-web discovery confirmed the company but not a precise factory address. It should be read as an unresolved verification gap, not a confirmed refutation.

Internal consistency: after correcting the cross-claim provenance handling, the deal materials contain no machine-detectable self-contradiction among grouped facts. (An earlier build false-flagged the $15M Flux SAFE and the $50M SAFE as a single contradictory figure; these are two distinct rounds and the false positive has been removed.)

Primary-document follow-ups for the deal team: (1) operating-company state registration certificate + the company's own Form D acknowledgements (the automated EDGAR match collided with a Sydecar SPV); (2) a real factory/project street address to key permit verification; (3) executed SAFE documents to confirm the valuation caps on both rounds.

Material findings

American Housing Corp Austin project - located at address

[REFUTED (severe)]

R (claim): Austin development site - "Deck references specific Austin project with detailed cost structure; Austin permit database should show permits if project is real"

f (test): If issuer claims a specific factory/office address, the city's permit DB should have at least one permit at that address. Recent permits with industrial scope (electrical service upgrade, mechanical, fire-suppression) corroborate active build-out. Zero permits = SEVERE absence of record.

M (authority): City of Austin building-permits open data

[https://data.austintexas.gov/resource/3syk-w9eu.json?select=permit_number%2Cpermit_type_desc%2Cpermit_class_mapped%2Cwork_class%2Cstatus_current%2Capplieddate%2Cissue_date%2Coriginal_address1%2Co...]

Finding: Zero permits returned for the claimed site. NOTE: the query was keyed on a non-specific placeholder address, not a verified street address, so this reads as an unresolved gap rather than a confirmed refutation - obtain the real address and re-run.

Methodology & limitations

Model. Every assertion in the deal materials is decomposed into an atomic claim R, matched to a verification rule f, and tested against an independent authority M. A finding records whether R was VERIFIED, REFUTED, or UNVERIFIABLE, with the authority cited as a URL. Two extraction modes run: Mode A (claims stated directly in the documents) and Mode B (implied verifications an investigator would derive - e.g. 'direct SAFE issuances imply a Form D should exist').

Coverage caveat. Only ~7% of extracted claims map to an implemented external connector today. A low REFUTED count therefore reflects verification REACH, not issuer honesty. UNVERIFIABLE never means clean.

Cross-claim consistency. A separate check groups claims by (subject, predicate, scope) and flags internally divergent numbers. Scope now includes entity-resolution provenance (resolved_from), so children decomposed from different parent claims - e.g. a $15M vs a $50M SAFE - are no longer mistaken for one self-contradictory figure.

Open-web discovery. The entity-resolution agent's web_search tool uses a full Chrome fingerprint (HTTP headers + a true TLS/HTTP-2 impersonation) and falls back across Brave -> DuckDuckGo -> Mojeek. Brave and DDG rate-limit this IP regardless of fingerprint; Mojeek carries the queries but indexes thinly, so it confirmed the company and founder but not a precise facility address.

This tearsheet is a research aid, not investment advice or a legal opinion. UNVERIFIABLE items must be closed with primary documents from management before reliance.
